

*I Once
by Brit*

Targets Without A Badge...

I once dreamed of saving the world and righting injustice's wrongs But along the journey the truths all changed empty words in my bitter song

I once dreamed of saving the world
with you by my side 'til the end But now I must save what I once believed and recapture the dream again

Starsky vs Hutch...

I once dreamed of saving the world
the champion of one woman's heart But my faithless soul betrayed the bond and tore our world apart

I once dreamed of saving the world
build a home and a love that would last But now I must rebuild the impenetrable trust before friendship is lost to the past

Sweet Revenge...

I once dreamed of saving the world
avenge the innocence that was lost But the world is bought by blood-debt and demands too high a cost

I once dreamed of saving the world
But I choke on tears as I pray For now I must save the one who means more than a world that's lost its way
