

Me and Thee
by Brit

Never again to be alone comfort has found me here An empty soul's journey ends as friendship has drawn me near Darkest night brings tortured days bound up in loneliness Yet sunlight breaks the bindings quick with friendship's touch confess

Two souls entwine and bind and firm as steel sharpens steel Destiny's child sends us on as time turns it's wheel

Rejoice, my heart and break forth your song for you go alone no more I'll not sail again the storm alone as love now lights the shore

A promise shared and bartered and won thy solitary shadow must flee By the bonds of love and brotherhood defined by me and thee.
